

The unusual disappearance

In the bustling city of New York a lot of unusual events can occur. There are just so many people so it very likely for mysteries to occur now and then. Though this time the problem they face is like no other. The people are in for a tough time but they need not fear for this time. Tenacious and his sidekick Courageous Collette are here to help. The problem was that a little girl called Molly was getting ready for a party. When she was picking an outfit when she fell in to the dressing room cupboard and from that day on she was not to be seen. Everyone was worried terribly. They wanted someone to help get her out. Several police are on the case but each day someone else would get stuck inside. Until the Government made up his mind to call in

THE HERO Tenacious Tino and Courageous Collette. "Ah this would be the perfect duo for the job, with Tino's determination and Collette's bravery, the two will be just right for the situation but, there was just one person who doubted them and that was this one man called McGregor MR McGregor most commonly known as MR High and mighty had thought nothing could save poor Molly. This was meant to offend the two though it did just the opposite.
It set them to the mindset to do all they could to save Molly and all the other officers who had gone to save her and were supposedly stuck in the place as she was. They were going to save them and that's that. The next day the duo set off to Molly's house. Tino and Collette were not a bit scared they were just determined to save the people. When they opened the wardrobe all they saw was clothes and the usual. They looked everywhere for clues till they felt a hollow area and just as Tino was about to say something fell and next thing he knew he was in a dark room filled with cobwebs and dust but most important there was Molly and 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 police officers. "You lot must be awfully hungry let me get you some water and food but first let get you out of here." Tino's kind words and resilience comforted the people. Tino called Collette and asked her to send a rope from outside the wardrobe so they could climb out and soon everybody was climbing safely out of the cupboard. Everyone thanked Tina and Collette for saving them and Collette explained to Molly's parents that there was a trapdoor in the wardrobe which had to be fixed and CAN YOU BELIEVE MR HIGH AND MIGHTY apologized to the duo for doubting them and the two accepted the apology immediately.

Now all the New Yorkers adore the way Tenacious Tina and Courageous Collette handled the situation.

The end