

You all know about Compassionate Carlos, but today I am going to tell you about his sidekick, who always supports Carlos in his adventures.

His name is Kevin, mostly known as Kind Kevin as he is always ready to help people with his generous kindness.

This is how they met.

Long time back, when Carlos was going through his daily routine of being of help to others, he needed someone at that moment to help with as much vigor as himself. Just when Carlos thought that there is no one meeting the requirement, he saw a boy helping others with full passion. Carlos appreciated him and asked his name. The boy replied 'Kevin'. "I will call you kind Kevin," said Carlos.

The name really suited him, as he is very kind at all times, always ready to help others. Kind Kevin is a very humble and well-mannered person. He wins over people with his act of kindness for people, pets and animals. Only the other day his kindness was visible when he took a dog, hit by a car to the vet hospital and saved its life. He helps old people, differently abled people cross roads and streets. We can infer from his habits and life that it is always good to be kind to people around you. We should use this motto in Life - Kindness may not pay you, but it would go waste. Today someone may need your kindness, some other day you will be in need and act of kindness will follow you.
