

Round Square Writing Competition

One day, a clever rabbit named Recycle Rabbit invited her friend Sustainability Suki for a play. After they had a delicious lunch, Sustainability Suki was about to throw a bottle away. Recycle Rabbit stopped and shouted "Wait are you assuming you can just recycle it?" "Well I don't litter," "Neither do I!" "Then what do you do, Recycle Rabbit?" "I turn things into something useful. Come let me show you around my house!" Cardboard as a fridge, lanterns as glass jars, old fabric and blanket and tissues into cotton balls! Sustainability Suki was inspired and had a burst of excitement. "Can I make something with you? With her eyes gleaming and glowing with excitement, "Of course!" Yay! So together they gathered stuff and had a blast going through the bins and getting more creative. Together they made all sorts of cool stuff. Like bottles = microphone beads into jelly, news paper into art and so much more! Now they have inspired tons of people. Now they didn't have to buy objects, started making more stuff for homes! Adults / kids and

Round Square Writing Competition

Write your story below (approximately 500 words):

how at school they can have something to do as they are non stop board and they ended up having a group join them and they got awards for the best creative ideas and people notice and congratulate and thank them how they are inspiring and best at thinking when it was clean up Australia day they went on stage and everyone clapped with pride. Even they made it on the papers just with creativity.

LINDISFARNE
Anglican Grammar School

Illustrations

LINDISFARNE
Anglican Grammar School