Suki's Waterfall Rescue

Did you know that sustainability Suki has a sidekick? No? Well, let me tell you all about her! Her name is Starry and she is an earth fairy! Starry has glowing skin and a yellow and light green dress that looks like a banksia tree. She has delicate wings and eyes as blue as the sea. Starry has hair that looks like Suki's with tiny flowers as bright as the sun.

On THIS particular sunny afternoon, Sustainability Suki decided today was the perfect day to go visit her favourite waterfall. She likes to call it the RUSHING RIVERS. Suki was walking through the neighbourhood until she reached a rocky, rugged hill, next to beautiful glistening water. "What? Why is the water brown?" thought Suki. "I know who can help me." she thought.

"Starry Starry, come here now please, I might need you for my next flight!" shouted Suki. Then the brightest star floated down like a leaf floating in the wind. When the star became close enough to the ground the star transformed into... STARRY! Starry, the glistening earth fairy fluttered down to Suki. "Who did this?" said Starry looking at the brown water. "It's from the river" said Suki. So they went up the jagged rocks to try to figure out what was happening. Once they both got up, they saw half empty soda cans, floating chip packets, cans of beer, plastic and more! They felt devastated! They decided to continue on up stream to see who or what was doing this? A little further up stream they figured it out! It was humans! They slowly approached the humans.

“What are you doing? Why are you doing this?” said Suki. The humans froze until Suki spoke again. “You are hurting our environment!”. One person finally spoke up, in a very sad voice she said “We are terribly sorry.” Suki took a moment, smiled and then replied “Let me show you something”. Suki & Starry lead the way and they all walked back to the waterfall. All the humans were in awe, but also they felt sorry for how they had treated the river.

Suki and Starry got to teach them more about the environment and how to care for it properly. The human's learnt about how their choices impact the environment. Another person spoke and said “Thank you Suki and Starry, you have taught us so much and we will be forever grateful”. Suki and Starry both smiled and said “It was our pleasure”. They were so happy to hear that the humans will never pollute again and that our environment is safe. But remember, we must always care and protect our environment together.
