Water Blockage

Splash! Water erupted from the pipe as Whimsical Wobble playfully emerged from a shimmering puddle in Inquisitive Indu's secret base.

"Seriously Wobble? I'm on the brink of a major breakthrough of our new case: The Questionable Friendship! Don't distract me again!" Complained Indu

"Have a bit of fun for once! We're meant to be a team! Also, it's April Fools! My birthday that you know about!" Exclaimed Wobble, hurt.

Head drooping like a ragdoll, Wobble slid away leaving a trail of tears, to his safe place of endless, cerulean ocean. Finally, he felt accepted where his fellow water beings once lived, and possibly even his family! Wobble already dedicated his life to being Inquisitive Indu's sidekick, she was his only current family.

"Wait! Why have I spent my entire life serving another hero when I could be one myself? There's no blockage to this water being!" Realised Wobble as ideas cascaded from his creative mind like a waterfall.

A mysterious banging noise embraced the ocean as it vibrated intensely. The sea creatures didn't seem bothered by the throbbing noise, so Wobble cluelessly proceeded. As the noise continued to follow close behind him a deafening "HELP" caught his attention.

"That voice sounds oddly familiar! Uh Oh, it's Indu..."

Frantic splashing intimidated the peaceful sea creatures as Wobble rushed back to shore. His heart pumped at the speed of light,

"What's happening to Indu? Is she okay? Am I too late?" Negative thoughts attempted to discourage Wobble, but he wasn't leaving Indu again, at least not that time. He reached home only to find a locked door that wouldn't give in; however Wobble was water, he could adapt to all environments and most importantly squeeze through any gaps! Being the true whimsical hero, Wobble hoisted himself into the pipes and directed himself through using his deductive and original thinking. Eventually, he dove out from the maze of pipes and noticed Indu squashed in the corner of their secret base crying her heart out.

“What’s wrong Indu?” asked Wobble in a compassionate voice.

“Wobble?” exclaimed Indu joyously as she leaped onto him in relief.

“I’m sorry for everything! You’re the best family/sidekick I could ever ask for and... I hope you enjoy your party!!”

All the Round Square Heroes poured into the base with their sidekicks standing proudly beside. Wobble spent the night partying with the heroes and describing his dramatic adventure as well as hanging out with his family. His one and only, true family...
